Who we are

Hellberg Safety is a professional manufacturer of hearing protection, face protection and communication solutions. We have well over 50 years of knowledge in hearing conservation and product development. Since we were founded in 1962, the goal has been to set the very highest standards in comfort, design and performance.

With knowledge, experience and the latest technology we offer reliable communication solutions which contribute to end-user wellbeing in their daily working environments.

Optimal quality, performance and design

At Hellberg Safety we only use high quality materials tested in our own laboratories for optimal performance. All our products are independently tested in “real-life” situations, to ensure a product that is comfortable and reliable in any situation or environment.

The SECURE series features everything from standard passive hearing protectors to advanced electronic communication solutions. With its modern eye-catching design and finish, SECURE appeals to all generations of professional users with high demands of quality, performance and design.

The SAFE face protection offers customised visors solutions for protection against a variety of hazards. The visors and carriers are ergonomically designed to be practical and effective and are fully compatible with the SECURE system.

SECURE

Passive and electronic hearing protection.

The SECURE system offers hearing protection suited for everything from low to extreme noise level environments. Choose from different styles of hearing protection clearly indicated by bright colours for easy identification and selection.

SAFE

Face protection.

The SAFE face protection range offers visor solutions to suit many different work environments. With its uniform design, the visors and carriers can be combined with hearing protectors and safety helmets, or be used as stand alone visor solutions.
